Invitation to participate

We are delighted to announce that the European Conference on Computer Vision (ECCV) will be taking place at the Scottish Event Campus (SEC) from 23 – 28 August 2020 and we would like to invite you and your company to join us.

From promising start-ups and creative standouts to the biggest industry leaders, this conference will be a showcase of companies that are pushing the boundaries of what's possible with computer vision and machine learning technologies. This is an excellent opportunity for businesses in the industry to engage with professionals in this field and approach their target market.

This conference will attract a wide range of delegates, including professors, students, researchers, budding entrepreneurs and technologists to cross paths and exchange the latest and newest ideas.

It is expected that delegate numbers will be in excess of 4,000 visiting Glasgow from over 50 countries.

This prospectus should provide you with all of the information you require however, if you wish to discuss a bespoke package, we would welcome your suggestions.

We very much look forward to working with you and welcoming you to Glasgow in 2020!

About the Conference

The European Conference on Computer Vision (ECCV) is one of the top conferences for researchers in this field, together with the IEEE conferences ICCV (international Conference on Computer Vision) and CVPR (Computer Vision and Pattern Recognition). Similar to ICCV and CVPR in scope it covers cutting-edge developments in image and video analysis, AI / deep learning methods for CV, and a rich spectrum of applications including security, healthcare, big data, and many more. ECCV is held biennially, in alternation with the International Conference on Computer Vision. Like ICCV and CVPR, it is considered an important conference in computer vision. It was first held in 1990 in Antibes (France) with subsequent conferences in Santa Margherita Ligure (Italy) in 1992, Stockholm (Sweden) in 1994, Cambridge (UK) in 1996, Freiburg (Germany) in 1998, Dublin (Ireland) in 2000, Copenhagen (Denmark) in 2002, Prague (Czech Republic) in 2004, Graz (Austria) in 2006, Marseille (France) in 2008, Heraklion (Greece) in 2010, Florence (Italy) in 2012, Zürich (Switzerland) in 2014, Amsterdam (Holland) in 2016, and Munich (Germany) in 2018. To our great delight, the 16th conference will be held in Glasgow, Scotland, United Kingdom.

Like other top computer vision conferences, ECCV has tutorial talks, technical sessions, and poster sessions. The conference is usually spread over seven days with the main technical program occupying four days in the middle, and tutorial and workshops, focussed on specific topics, being held in the beginning and at the end.

About Glasgow

Glasgow is a vibrant and compact city with plenty to offer delegates outside of conference sessions.

The city has a range of cultural attractions including many museums and art galleries offering free entry, such as the stunning Kelvingrove Art Gallery and Museum and the award-winning Riverside Museum. Visitors can explore the works of artist and architect Charles Rennie Mackintosh, walk the city centre Art Mural Trail or take a stroll through one of the many parks and green spaces.

Delegates can look forward to a warm welcome in a city voted 'world's friendliest city' by Rough Guides.
